

Level Seven Certificate in school financial and operational leadership

About the course

The Chartered Institute of Public Finance and Accountancy (CIPFA) and The Institute of School Business Leadership (ISBL) have successfully worked in partnership to provide high-quality training for school business management professionals for the past decade. In response to ISBL members and the evolving educational landscape, we can now offer a Level Seven Certificate in School Financial and Operational Leadership.

School business leaders provide critical support and operational leadership to School Principals, Headteachers and Senior Leadership Teams – of which they will often be a part.

The evolving educational landscape has changed the offer from Local Authorities, and as a result school business management professionals have become even more important, especially in Academies and Multi Academy Trusts (MATs). This means that school leadership teams increasingly need to include a Chief Finance/Operations Officer or similar role to oversee (amongst other things) finance, corporate governance, risk management and strategic procurement.

This innovative new training programme for current and aspiring Chief Finance/Operations Officers takes into account the participant's past qualifications. It provides a flexible blend of e-learning, workbooks and face-to-face sessions to enable participants to develop their skills in:

- Financial management and reporting
- The education funding environment
- Writing business cases and taking investment decisions
- Governance, accountability and assurance
- Procurement and contract management
- Liaising with, and providing information to, internal and external auditors.
- Strategic financial planning

This training recognises the government's commitment to public sector efficiency and value for money. ISBL is working with the Department for Education in its drive for a self-improving educational system, which is capable of developing and managing organisational structures.

This programme will help ensure that resources and expertise are deployed in the most effective and efficient way, to deliver optimum learning outcomes for all children and the delivery of a world-class education system.

The programme is aimed at individuals working in a senior position within finance or business management. It is designed to support professionals who aspire to be Chief Finance Officers (CFO) or Chief Operating Officers (COO) in schools and academies.

Programme participants could be currently working inside or outside education, with different paths for different past skill sets and experiences. Those working in education could be from: Local Authority maintained schools, independent Academies and MATs or independent schools.

Participants who have completed the Level 4 CIPFA/ISBL Diploma in Financial Skills or who are members of a recognised accountancy institute can move directly to Practitioner Level.

What you are required to commit to (including two optional modules)

The programme is made up of 9 modules undertaken, which participants must have successfully accomplished to gain the qualification.

2. Practitioner programme
